

Online Safety:

Hello everyone!

I know it might seem that we go on and on about online safety but it really is important to keep up to speed with what our children are accessing when they are online. During this health pandemic our children have probably accessed more online time than ever before and we always need to ensure that they are safe.

I would like to signpost you to the following website as there are some really good video clips to support your child and you, in making sure the online access they have is secure. The website is called Think U Know and they have created videos to support parents in particular during Covid-19. You can find the videos here:

If you can engage with the materials on the website, you will be undertaking online safety at home which can only be a positive thing for the well being and safety of your child.

Take care everyone!
